

Tick the sentence that uses an apostrophe correctly.

The three cat's eyes were glowing brightly.

The three cats' eyes were glowing brightly.

The three cats eye's were glowing brightly.

The three cats eyes' were glowing brightly.

Underline the determiners in these sentences.

Several angry members of the ministry held a meeting.

The witches gathered on their broomsticks.

Some wizards joined the witches.

Which of the following best describes a paragraph – circle your answer.

Sentences put together and then a break afterwards to give the reader time to breathe and relax.

A group of sentences usually related to one point which begins on an indented line.

A group of several sentences on a new line which are different ways of saying the same thing.

Tick the option that shows how the apostrophe is used in the sentence.

The boy's trousers were ripped.

As an apostrophe for plural possession.

As an apostrophe for singular possession.

As an apostrophe for contraction.

As an apostrophe for omission.

Tick the sentence which is correct.

Determiners come after a noun.

Determiners come after adjectives.

Determiners come before a noun.

Write the following words into the correct space in the table.

|           |           |            |         |              |       |
|-----------|-----------|------------|---------|--------------|-------|
| now       | outside   | underneath | firstly | occasionally |       |
| sometimes | yesterday | later      | next    | often        | above |

| Adverbs of Time(When?) | Adverbs of Frequency(How Often?) | Adverbs of Place(Where?) | Adverbs of Number (Inwhat Order?) |
|----------------------------|--------------------------------------|------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
|                            |                                      |                              |                                       |